White census in the Cameron Independent School District has been completed with 1215 scholastics reported, county school superintendent Hinton H. Pruett said today.

The estimated figure for 1958-59 school year will be set in May, Pruett added.

MILAM COUNTY'S

Fruit Trees

Milam Soil Suitable For Home Orchards

J. D. Moore, County Agent

Most all of the soils in Milam County are suited to the production of home orchards. As a result of the recent drought, there is a tremendous shortage of fruit trees. Several acres planted to recommended varieties of fruit trees would be a good investment.

One-half to one acre planted to a variety of fruits chosen to ripen in succession will supply a family of five with fresh fruits in season and a surplus to freeze, can, dry, preserve and pickle for the winter. It costs only a few dollars to prove that you can produce fruit on a small scale, at least. With this as a start, and with a willingness to spend a few odd hours during the year attending the trees and plants almost any farmer may have home grown fruit in abundance; a quantity that will provide each family member the two servings daily or 300 pounds yearly needed for good nutrition.

In selecting kinds and varieties of fruit for the home orchard, consider varieties adapted to local conditions of soil and climate, preference of family members and a succession of ripening fruits.

Extension Service Circular No. 150 Fruit Varieties For Texas, gives detailed information on the kinds and varieties of fruit to plant in the different parts of the state.

Treatment of Trees

It is preferable to plant trees during January and February. Trees should be unpacked immediately upon receipt from the nurseryman. Every precaution should be exercised to prevent the roots from becoming dry. If trees cannot be planted at once, they should be "heeled in" by digging a trench sufficiently wide and deep to receive the roots. If the soil is dry, a few pails of water poured into the trench may prevent the roots from drying out.

Detailed information concerning orchard management is available at the County Extension office in a bulletin B-73 Orchard Management.

FFA's At Stock Show

Twenty-seven local Future Farmers of America recently attended the Fat Stock Show and Rodeo in San Antonio, according to Pat Kelley, Yoe High School vocational agricultural instructor.

Henry Richter, Ed Laywell, and Clinton Wiederkehr, all of Cameron, were guests of the group.

MILAM COUNTY SWITCH GRASS — Robert Bounds, Soil Conservation technician, views the only known plot of any size of switch grass in Milam County located on the Watt Estate Farm near Cameron. Milam county SCS technicians are working with W. C. Keith, farm manager, to harvest switch grass seeds to put on other multiplication plots in the Central Texas Soil Conservation District.

SCS Sets Grass Seed Harvesting

Switch grass, a grass native to Milam County before the county was put to cropland, is a top-rated grass for conservation and production. Soil Conservation officials report.

The only known plot of any size in the county is found on the Watt Estate Farm near Cameron. Switch grass is one of the native grasses that will only produce well from locally grown seeds, SCS officials say.

SCS technicians are working with W. C. Keith, farm manager, to harvest seeds to put on other multiplication plots in the Central SC district.

Chick Presentation To Be February 28

Eighty 4-H members and 20 FFA members from various communities in the county have signed up for the Milam County Chamber of Commerce Broiler Program.

Broilers have been ordered and will be shipped to Cameron February 28. Growers will meet at the Milam County Court House at 4 p.m. February 28 to receive their chicks. Sponsors will be present to get acquainted with the growers, Bennie Whiteside, assistant county agent said.

Clover, Sorghum Improve Soil

Some better crops for improving the soil by feeding soil organisms are hubam clover and sweet sorghum, ASC sources say.

Hubam clover can be planted in the fall or spring and now until March 15 is the time to plant.

Hubam needs to be fertilized and managed properly. A minimum of 40 pounds of phosphorus is normally needed for good growth and a combination of phosphorus and nitrogen will give the clover a faster start and stimulate more growth. Ten to 15 pounds of seed need to be drilled on a firm seed bed.

Sweet sorghum, when properly fertilized, will produce from 10 to 20 tons of high quality organic matter.

Beneficial soil organisms decay the vegetation that returns to the soil and keep the earth porous, friable, soluble and receptive to rainfall.

Food for beneficial soil organisms come from crop residue, cover crops, grasses and fertilizer. Crops planted specifically for soil ger food supply. These residues need to be supplemented with crop planted specifically for soil improvement.

Farmers interested in developing plans for keeping soil alive should consult the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office.

New Cameron Drug Featuring Up-To-Minute Pharmacy Dept.

The New Cameron Drug Store, Cameron, features an up-to-date prescription center under the direction of Earl Curtis, graduate pharmacist and store owner.

Curtis has as his assistant in the prescription department Oakie Mayes, veteran pharmacist. There is a licensed pharmacist on duty at all times during 8 to 6:30 store hours, Curtis points out.

"We maintain a fresh supply of anti-biotics and drugs that is as complete as we can make it," he continues.

Curtis, a graduate of the School of Pharmacy, University of Texas, has received national awards for his merchandising and pharmaceutical work from Rexall Drug Co., drug distributors. They include a plaque for outstanding merchandising in drug business and a copy of an ancient mortar and pestle of the early 15th century.

Direct Service

New Cameron's prescription service includes direct lines to doctors' offices for fast, efficient prescription service when time is of utmost importance.

"We're continuing to study all the new developments in the pharmaceutical field to keep up with the expanding needs served by pharmacy," Curtis says.

New Cameron Drug also sells prepared drugs with the famous Rexall label and a wide line of gift items. Rexall products are nationally advertised, Curtis points out.

Curtis also features a wide line of cosmetics including Revlon, Dorothy Gray and Cara Nome. Mrs. W. O. Rinn is New Cameron's cosmetician who is experienced in advising women on cosmetic helps and hints.

C. E. Curtis, father of Earl, and Mrs. Earl Curtis, assist in providing a well-rounded drug and notions business at New Cameron Drug.

Another feature of the New Cameron Drug is the fountain service that operates from 8 until 6:30 each day except Sunday.

The senior Curtis has a complete stock of Tobaccos, cigarettes and cigars for the smoker.

Started In 1949

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis bought the New Cameron Drug in July, 1949 immediately after he graduated from the University. They reside at 1503 N. Cleveland where Curtis enjoys a hobby of raising Boxer dogs.

Curtis' other hobbies include an infrequent round of golf. He is a member of the Cameron Kiwanis Club, Chamber of Commerce and vice-president of the Cameron School Board. He belongs to the First Baptist Church, Cameron.

The Curtises have two daughters, Cindy, 17, a senior at Yoe High School, and Kathy, 5.

Curtis emphasizes that New Cameron Drug personnel strive to continue an up-to-date drug and notions business.

"We particularly strive to provide the most reliable, efficient pharmacy and prescription department that modern science can provide," Curtis concludes.

Constant Growth

Milam Grain Co.
Increasing Area
For Unloading

Constantly improved storage facilities await Milam County maize growers at 201 Cedar St., site of the old Batte Oil Mill opened last year by Milam Grain Co.

Officials of the year-old grain organization say that reconditioning is now underway to expand local storage facilities to 200 cars, about 20 cars beyond 1957 capacity.

Robert M. Clark, secretary-treasurer of the operation, says that reconditioning should be completed by June 1 before the harvest season starts.

Other Improvements

Other improvements underway at Milam Grain Co. include the enlargement of present unloading facilities to double capacity. Present facilities handled about 75,000 pounds per hour but with the increased size about 150,000 pounds capacity will be available.

Also planned is installation of new unloading facilities that will unload about 200,000 pounds of maize an hour from waiting trucks.

"We believe this will provide ample unloading capacity to keep farmers from having to wait a long time in line," Clark says.

"We have not completed arrangements for additional storage facilities elsewhere, but plan to have such facilities lined up by harvest time," Clark continues.

Clark says the year-old grain operation will have the best 1958 storage market in the area when all improvements are made.

Company Officers

Officers of Milam Grain Co. are Perry Holder, president; C. O. Angell, vice president and manager; Clark, secretary-treasurer; and H. L. Yager, member of the board of directors along with the other officers.

Milam Grain Co. handled a total of 185 carloads of maize in 1957 in the first year of operation, Clark points out. The organization bought 60 cars of maize and put the grain on the open market and stored about 125 cars.

"These improvements are a part of a continuing process of keeping up with requirements for service in the Milam County grain market," Clark concludes.

Correct Measurements, Heat Important For Good Brownies

Brownies are always a hit! These moist, fudgy, bar-type cookies are easy to make and can be varied in many ways.

For sure success, measure ingredients carefully, set oven heat control for correct temperature and use the size pan called for in the recipe. An 8x12-inch square pan. A larger pan will make brownies too thin, a smaller pan makes them too thick, and in either case baking time and temperature will not give good results.

Mrs. Conrad Jekel, 205 East 17th, suggest the following brownie recipe.

Sift together two-thirds cup of sifted flour, one-half teaspoon baking powder, and one-fourth teaspoon salt. Melt one-third cup shortening and two squares of unsweetened chocolate over boiling water. Add one cup sugar gradually to two well-beaten eggs, beating thoroughly. To egg and sugar mixture, add shortening and chocolate and blend. Add flour and mix well. Stir in one-half cup broken nuts (pecans or walnuts) and one teaspoon vanilla. Spread in greased 8x12-inch square pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 35 minutes. Remove from oven, let stand in pan a few minutes, cut in squares, remove from pan.

Mrs. Jekel serves these brownies plain to her friends and family, however they may be frosted with chocolate frosting or the nuts may be omitted and coconut added for variety.

Mrs. Jekel, a member of the Presbyterian Church, is the mother of two, Dwight, 8, and Lillie Ann, 21.

Two new enlistments and one re-enlistment were made in Battery C, 649th Anti-aircraft Artillery Battalion last week, the local National Guard unit reported today.

Alcoa Cutback ... An Analysis

Impact of the Alcoa and Industrial Generating cutbacks has about run its course. It gives us an opportunity to consider the general import of the moves.

Alcoa cut production on two polines last week, affecting 250 jobs in the Rockdale Works and forcing IGC to plan a 75-man layoff effective February 28.

First reaction to the cutback was one of dread. Indeed those individuals affected by the layoff wondered what they would do for employment. The general public and businessmen too were perplexed about immediate economic implications.

Then Cameron began to realize what a balanced economy can do in the time of leveling off. With our basic farm economy, numerous wholesale distributing concerns and varied business interests, we find county industrial cutback less an influence than thought.

Rockdale, where the impact is most widely felt, could look upon the cutback with realistic optimism. The Alcoa plant is still operating at the same level of pre-1956 when only four lines were in production.

A heartening fact, too, is that the Rockdale Works was the last Alcoa smelting plant to be cut back. Four other Alcoa plants had idled production lines before the Saturday layoff in Rockdale. The Rockdale Works must be producing quality aluminum economically.

Milam County growth from the Alcoa plant's construction was rapid from the starting date in 1951, not after 1956.

In Cameron, it is interesting to note that Alcoa's growth provided a balance for our economy while farm production was curtailed by drouth and cotton acreage limitations. Now the drouth is ended, indicating that production of cotton, truck crops, and maize, however restricted, will be on the rebound. And now comes the Alcoa cutback.

It is reasonable to assume that Cameron's farm economy, including a strong cattle upsurge, will balance in some measure the Alcoa reduction. It is equally reasonable to assume that Alcoa's production will return to normal when spring sales in the U. S. pick up.

Cameron's economy will prove amazingly elastic in the coming year. With ground moisture the best in 10 years, good cattle pasture and potential crop outlook can produce a good farm year for agricultural Milam County.

Cameron businesses in a number of different lines reported January increases over January, 1957. What was the difference? Rain! The outlook in January, 1957, was to continued drouth. The outlook, though drenched with it, was to spring moisture in January, 1958.

All of these factors indicate that industry plus agriculture give Cameron and Milam County an economy only total depression could break.

An aspect in Texas economic cycles provides further belief in Milam stability. The Texas University of Business Research says that Texas business will dip less than the national average.

While national figures dropped 19 percent in 1948-49, Texas totals fell only 6 percent; in 1953-54, the national drop was 11 percent, Texas 8 percent, the Bureau says.

These figures are significant to Milam County because we are partially industrialized. We believe the influx of industry and population in Texas will again hold Texas and therefore Milam County's recession drop to a point well under the national average.

Our agricultural economy, a nine-million dollar economy, will be of considerable importance in tiding us over whatever cutback industry brings.

What, then, is more realistic than intelligent optimism? Our economy can absorb the Alcoa cutback. Our strength lies in diversity.

THE LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

Sage Advises Washington Feelings
No Indication Of Economic Upswing

Dear editor:
I don't know anything about the economic situation, I know when hard times are here and when they've left, but me and the economic experts have never been able to figure out exactly when they're coming or when they're fixing to leave, at least not to the point where we could make any money with our inside dope, so all this talk about a "readjustment" or a "minor recession" leaves me on the outside.

However, there is pretty general admission at the top level in Washington that a mild recession has hit the country, in some spots at least, although I've seen times so hard a mild recession like this one would look like a prosperity boom, but what has me puzzled is a statement I read in a copy of a frozen newspaper which a north wind blew in during the cold spell last week and which I read just before I started a fire with it.

According to it, "the feeling of the administration is that business will pick up in the mid-year period and be booming again before the end of the year."

Now I'll tell you. Maybe Washington can depend on its feelings to tell how the year is going to turn out, but the system won't work on this farm out here on Little River.

I've never started a crop year yet that I didn't feel that this year I'm really going to make something, but after years of experience I've found that a man's feelings in January and February are mighty sorry barometers about what's going to take place at selling time later on in the year. Understand, there's nothing wrong with these first-of-the-year feelings, they're necessary if a farmer is ever going to get any planting done, but they don't have any more bearing on the outcome than wishing for rain if it's dry or for dry weather if it's raining. What I mean is, how a man feels about his crop prospects before he gets his seed in the ground has mighty little loan value at the bank.

I'm like Washington, if we have got a mild recession, I feel like it'll end by mid-year, but it's pretty hard to feel your way into better times or into outer space or a good crop year. Sometimes you can't even work your way into it, although this is hearsay with me.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Capitol Report

Money Issues Are Austin's Top News

By Vern Sanford

Texas Press Association

AUSTIN—Money is making the biggest news in Austin at the moment.

Discussion swirls around such topics as campaign funds, unemployment, recession, taxation, receiverships and credit insurance rates ... all pocket-prodding issues.

Gov. Price Daniel publicly deplored the money-raising efforts of Texas' Republican National Committee H. J. (Jack) Porter. Porter staged a $100-a-plate dinner in Houston to raise money for Republican congressional campaigns. His widely publicized letter asking contributions pointed out the need to gain support for the natural gas bill now before Congress.

A hard-fought issue for many years, the bill is generally favored in Texas and other gas-producing states, but bitterly opposed in gas-consuming Eastern and Northern cities. Opponents were quick to label Porter's approach as "mass bribery" and "selling legislation for campaign contributions." Proponents of the bill groaned. They contended that Porter had heaved a huge monkey wrench into plans for passage this session.

Governor Daniel said the incident "should convince all Texans that the Republican leadership in this state has nothing to offer but embarrassment, discord and division."

Why No Jobs

Viewing the soaring unemployment figures, Governor Daniel took more jobs at the GOP.

Loss of jobs reportedly increased more in the past month than at any time since World War II.

As far as Texas is concerned, said the governor, much of the blame can be laid to the Republican administration's ineffectiveness in controlling oil imports. Competition of foreign oil, he asserted, has caused Texas production to slip steadily, bringing loss of jobs and revenue to the state. National farm policies also were criticized by the governor.

Texas Employment Commission says its January unemployment compensation payments hit $537,800, an increase of almost 70 percent from last September.

More Taxes

Governor Daniel has slightly and very cautiously amended his determinedly cheerful stand about possible need for new state taxes.

He still doesn't agree with Comptroller Robert S. Calvert's chilly predictions. These are for a $12,000,000 deficit by the end of this biennium (in 1959) and need for the next Legislature to scratch up $100,000,000 in new revenue.

Governor Daniel said he felt the state would just about break even by 1959. But he conceded that needs of a growing state might call for more money by then. He still favors a gas gathering tax, which he proposed last year, but emphasized he isn't recommending that or any other new tax for the time being.

Let's Face It

It's a recession, all right, but a minor one.

This is the answer Dr. John R. Stockton, one of the state's top business analysts, is giving many groups these days. Dr. Stockton is director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Ebbing of prosperity and fear of another Depression have put the spotlight on BBR's studies. Dr. Stockton mimes no words about there being a recession, but contends that the cures for this one are in plain sight. He cites increased federal spending and easier credit regulations.

A "minor" recession, says the BBR director, usually lasts about six to eight months.

Rate Order Delayed

State Board of Insurance is re-studying an order that would cut in half the rate for insurance on people who get small loans.

Order brought a storm of protest from credit insurers who said the regulation would put them out of business. After a hearing, the Board postponed effective date of the order from March 1 to April 1.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has said he would head a drive to crack down on "loan sharks" if the Insurance Board would tighten up credit insurance regulations.

WOULD A FENCE HELP?

If we could build a fence around the world, what would it mean?

Would we live happily with one another? Would we respect our limitations and still feel free within our confines? Would we stop wars, and know eternal peace?

Probably not. Because, while you can fence in physical objects, the minds, the hearts, and the souls of man cannot be harnessed. Nor could we be forced to live in peace. Blessed peace can come only to us through practicing the love, the faith, the tolerance and the understanding that God, through His Church on earth, tries again and again to teach us.

With that in mind, remember World Day of Prayer this year. Determine not to build a fence around yourself, or around anyone else—but to pledge, instead, to enlarge your horizons and the horizons of the entire world through the common voice of prayer.

And what better place in which to make such a pledge than the Church itself?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Texans Fire 5 Million Bullets During 1957

By Vern Sanford

In this busy world where everyone is rushing about in such a hurry you'd think that all our pistol and rifle fells would come put up in boxes ready to shoot. After all, mama buys her bread already mixed, her chicken pies cooked, frozen and ready for the oven.

Not so with shooters, however. There still are many who prefer to handload their own fodder. In fact there were more than 5,000,000 jacketed projectiles sold for rifles in Texas in 1957. Hard to believe, isn't it?

The prime reason for reloading seems to be in the economy. Next is accuracy, which really might be first in the long run.

On the basis of economy a box of 20 factory loaded 30-60 hulls sells for $4.55 retail. This is almost 23 cents each. Of course, if you are a deer hunter and just

Taylor Girl Wins

Miss Marilyn Psnecik of Taylor won first place in a beauty contest sponsored by the Thorndale Future Farmers of America at their Valentine Carnival February 13.

use one shot a year to get your venison, then that isn't expensive. But if you do a lot of shooting between season, at paper targets, rocks on the hill or at silhouettes, then it gets expensive. A break down shows that the actual cost of components of a reloaded 30-60 shell is around three-fourths cents each.

Handloading equipment now has been perfected to assure the utmost safety in reloads. And with these custom loads you can get accuracy that is almost impossible with factory loads.

Hand loading is practical in all but rimfire ammunition. You can reload your old brass for either rifle, pistol or shotgun.

Fishing Prospects Bright

There is good news in the announcement of the Texas Game & Fish Commission that fish hatchery production is getting underway with an improved program this spring. Last year the state produced and delivered more than 14,000,000 fish. This year, barring the unforeseen, the production will be much greater.

Most of the applications for these fish will come from the owners of farm and ranch tanks, filled by the 1957 rains for the first time.

Unfortunately many more fish will be asked for by people who really don't need them. If you have any idea about making application for fish, discuss the need first with your local fisheries biologist. Then take his word for it. Believe it or not, it will be awfully easy this year to overstock an impoundment. That makes fishing worse, not better.

There was a terrific spawn in every lake in Texas in 1957. Those lakes right now are alive with plenty of last year's production that have already reached keeper size. We've caught those bass, now good natural spawn this spring. From 10 to 12 inches long. In another month or two they'll really running out of fish. Just get out be good fighters. With another there and feed 'em what they like.

Outlet Protection Essential for Terrace System Function

Plans need to be made at this time of the year for terrace outlet protection where terracing is done this year or at some date. For a terrace system function properly good outlet protection before the terraces are constructed is a must, officials of Taylor Soil Conservation District say.

The best outlet protection is a sodded pasture or a good seed waterway. If these are not established where terraces are to be done, then this outlet protection must be provided. Now is a good time to get this work done while other farm work is not rushing or urgent, sources say.

Cooperators with the Taylor Soil Conservation District who are planning to establish waterways for terrace outlet protection this spring are Floyd Praesel located about eight miles west of Rockdale, two waterways; Edwin Leschber located about eight miles south of Rockdale in the Shiloh community, two waterways. Also Mrs. Bertha Polzin on her farm located about six miles north of Rockdale, two waterways; Mrs. Frieda Lanke located six miles north of Thrall, one waterway; and Jim Kropp located five miles southeast of Thrall, one waterway.

Technical assistance for the establishment of these waterways is provided by the Rockdale Soil Conservation Service work office.

The first step in getting waterways established is to be sure that they are properly located so the terraces can be emptied into them. The best place to establish waterways is along the natural drains in the fields.

Another point to keep in mind is to locate waterways so they can be connected with a pasture and grazed. Past experience has shown that waterways that are grazed function better than those that are not grazed. Grazed waterways also make some contribution to the farm income instead of being considered waste land.

Good land preparation done well in advance of the sodding operation is also very essential to good success in waterway establishment. This land preparation can be done by bedding and rebedding, breaking or discing. If the red land is left rough and undrained after this operation it can be put in good condition for sodding by harrowing.

Bedding waterways can be done any time from now on until about May 1 provided good soil moisture conditions are present. Both common and coastal Bermuda grass can be used for waterway sodding. The sodding operation can be done by opening furrows and dropping either roots or chunks of Bermuda in the opened furrows and covering the planted grass three to four inches deep. Any beds or ridges that are left should be harrowed down smooth so the completed waterway will not be left rough or ridgy.

District cooperators and other farmers who would like to have technical assistance in waterway establishment should contact Soil Conservation Service personnel at their local work unit office.

County Moisture Supply Increases

Cold rain this week added to Milam County's soil moisture supply, but prevented any general farm plowing on county farms, J. D. Moore, county agriculture agent reported today.

However, farmers who have their land plowed should be able to start crops on schedule, Moore added.

Small grains for grazing continued slow growth this week with no damage reported. Some farmers are applying nitrogen to stimulate growth of small grain crops, Moore said.

Seed bed preparation has been made by truck crop growers and everything is in order for a good start with truck crops, Moore reports. Milam County farmers usually start tomato plant setting around March 1, he added.

Livestock conditions in the county remain good and are at a

Rice Announces Candidacy For Justice Of Peace

B. G. Rice, Cameron, has announced for re-election to the office of justice of the peace of Justice Precinct No. 1, Milam County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary July 26.

Judge Rice has been a resident of Milam County for 60 years and has served Precinct No. 1 as justice of the peace for the past five years. He has lived in Cameron the past six years.

He moved to Cameron from Ben Arnold in 1952 and now resides with his wife, Jennie, on East 15th St. in Cameron.

In making his announcement, Judge Rice stated that he pledges to the people an honest and efficient administration of his office.

He said he hopes people will consider his announcement a personal solicitation of their votes. He pointed out the duties of his office make it impossible for him to solicit actively their votes by personal contact.

Judge Rice said he will appreciate the support of his friends during his campaign and will strive to continue judicial court administration if re-elected.

He is a member of the First Baptist Church, Cameron.

PROCLAMATION

The health of the citizens of Cameron is our most vital asset, for it is the strength and spirit of our citizens which has made possible the great achievements of the city and which signals the great promise of our future.

The most important requisite for sound health is an adequate and balanced mealtime diet to build and maintain a strong body and an alert mind. The very success and development of the nation has been based, in great part, on the abundant food supply which made possible the physical well-being of Americans.

On February 24, 1958, President Dwight D. Eisenhower will open a National Food Conference in Washington, D. C., in which leaders of American public life will consider the meaning of food to the national welfare. The theme of this conference is the statement that "food comes first" in the physical development in our country.

THEREFORE, as Mayor of the city of Cameron, I do hereby designate the week of February 23 through March 1, 1958 as "FOOD COMES FIRST" week in and for the city of Cameron and I urge that this week be dedicated to stock-taking of the nutritional needs of every family and to consideration of the importance of an adequate and balanced diet to the well-being of our city and its citizens.

Robert Weems
Mayor

Farmers To File Reports

A report should be filed with the Board of Water Engineers in Austin on or before March 1 by farmers who have been using irrigation water from streams and rivers, county agent J. D. Moore said today.

Report forms are available at the County Extension office, Moore said.

W. E. "Speedy" Braden

'Speedy' Braden Announces For Commissioner

W. E. "Speedy" Braden, Rt. 3, Marlow, has announced for the post of county commissioner, Precinct 2, subject to action of the Democratic Primary July 26.

The 48-year-old carpenter and construction worker emphasized he is not seeking an office, but a job that he can do faithfully for the people of the precinct.

Braden was born at Maysfield, but has lived in Cameron most of his life, he said. He attended Yoe High School. He and his wife, the former Adella Matula, reside on Route 3, in the Marlow Community. They have two sons, Wesley and Bartley, both Korean veterans, who are now attending college.

Speedy is a veteran of Navy service in World War II and a member of Cameron American Legion Post No. 9.

Braden began for the highway department at age 18, gained construction experience with Brown & Root, Austin Road and Bridge Co. and Russ Mitchell construction companies, Speedy said. He added that this work consisted of building roads and forms for concrete bridges, and operating heavy machinery.

"For the past eight years, I have done a large share of the maintenance and repair on the County Courthouse and Jail and other county buildings besides working for the city in construction of the airport and maintenance of various structures," Speedy Braden said. He said friends have encouraged him to run for county commissioner since construction experience would be helpful to the commissioner under the present form of county government. He added that Milam County does not have the unit system whereby an engineer is hired to supervise construction.

"I have hesitated to enter politics, but after visiting with many people about county business, I am eager to toss my hat into the ring. Most folks want a dollar's worth of value for each tax dollar."

"I believe I can meet the requirements some people want in a commissioner such as a lean and rawboned man who spends more time on the roads and bridges working with his men," he said. "That is why I am asking you for the job."

"Thank you from the bottom of my heart for your encouragement, vote and support," he concluded.
